Celebrate!
WOMEN’S HISTORY MONTH

One of the most prominent American writers, Edith Wharton was the first woman to receive the Pulitzer Prize in literature. In addition to her work as a writer, Wharton made significant contributions to humanitarian efforts during World War I. Through performances of Edith Wharton, Karen Vuranch brings her to life, giving audiences a glimpse of this remarkable woman.

museum.msu.edu

Join Us!

Wednesday, March 14
4:00 – 5:00 p.m.
MSU Museum Main Gallery
A performance of Edith Wharton by Karen Vuranch in our Main Gallery exhibit, “War and Speech: Propaganda, Patriotism, and Dissent in the Great War.”

Thursday, March 15
12:15 – 1:30 p.m.
MSU Museum Auditorium
Brown Bag Presentation
Literature of WWI Interactive Workshop